DARE dinner-auction next Sunday

Those wishing to combat drug abuse in the community have an opportunity to become part of the solution by "Rising to the Challenge" is the theme of a dinner/auction spensored by the Granite City Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE) Committee in association with the Granite City Elks Drug Awareness Program.

With a goal of providing funding to the DARE program, possibly expanding beyond the fourth and sixth grades and offering the program in junior high schools, a fund-raising dinner and auction will be held at 5 p.m. Sunday, July 10, at the Elks Lodge, 4801 Maryville Road.

The event will feature a seven-course dinner catered by Chef Sharon Van Meler, owner of Jessica's Cottage, and served by the Elks Tuzedo Gents.

Silent and live auctions will also be featured.

The dinner menu includes Vichyssolse (chilled potato leek soup), Chern menus from in puff soup), Chern Champagne Coulibiac de saumon (salmon in phyllo with sauce Americaine), Salada Cafe de Paris (mixed green salad), Poularde de Cordon Bleu (chicken cordon bleu), and Appareis a bombe glacec (baked Alaska).

he July 4th weekend is upon us, and what kind of gardening tips are we going to offer during this glorious time of year? Well, we have several. If you're the type of person who can't stand too much dide time this weekend, here are a few this weekend, here are a few suggestions you may want to consider.

So Mulch The Better Mulch can be applied any time during the summer. The time during the summer. In e benefits of mulch are numer-ous. Mulch retains moisture, which can be an important factor during a dry summer, it's decorative, and it can hold weeds at bay.

When applying mulch, be sure to cover the plant's roo zone. A 3" to 4" layer of mulch is great for woody plants, while a 2" to 3" layer will work for herbaceous perennials.

Never mound mulch against stems and trunks of plants. Instead, leave a few inches of bare ground. between the mulch and the plant's bark. Rodents like to use mulch as a cozy hideaway, and if the mulch is piled against the plant, the critters may spend the winter gnawing on the bark. The end result of their nibbling can be a dead plant.

Sandy soil? Use more mulch. The opposite's true for heavy or wet soil. If your soil is compacted, don't use any mulch at all, since it could make the problem worse. Compacted soils hold a lot of water and very little air. Adding mulch will make it harder for air to penetrate and for water to drain.

Some Words on Birds

If you've been feeding the birds on a regular basis, try to continue doing so. It can be quite a shock to them if you stop. But if you must, do so gradually to give the little creatures time to lind their meals elsewhere.

Dry Floor? Not Quite!
You should avoid storing bags of fertilizer (either opened or unopened) on your garage floor. Moisture can and will work its way through concrete. Have you ever kept a bag of ready-mix cement on the garage floor for any length of time, and found it hard as a rock when you went to use it? Moisture is the culprit. Fertilizer won't harden, of course, but it will be rendered useless by the maisture. moisture.

Stir Things Up . . . Please!
If you started a compost pile, don't forget to tend it now and then. Actually, piles need to be stirred about twice a month. This will not only speed up the decomposition process, but it will keep the odor down.
With temperatures in the nineties not uncommon, the last thing you or your neighbors want around is a smelly compost pile.

Hose Foes
A common occurrence this time of the year is the poor garden hose that falls victim to the family car. When steel belted radial and hose coupling tangle, the tire is the odds on favorite to win. the odds on favorite to win. Fortunately, in most cases, the hose can be repaired rather easily. Pick up some new fittings at Frank's and follow the easy instructions. And while you're at it, a handy hose reel can go a long way in preventing the handy hose reel can go a long way in preventing the same type of hose-vehicle confrontation in the future. Reeling up the hose has other advantages, too. Hose that are left lying around can damage the grass, are unsightly, and they're easy to trip over.

Finally, don't forget that Frank's will be open July 4th from 9 am to 6 pm for anything you may need.

Work by Miofsky cited

Granite City Attorney Andrew J. Miofsky recently attended a ankruptcy law seminar sponsored by the Southern Illinois ankruptcy Institute. The program featured federal bankruptcy court judges from he Southern and Central districts of Illinois- and the Eastern bank-uptor Institute.

The program featured federal bank-ruptor court judges from the Southern and Central districts of Illinois- and the Eastern District of Missouri discussing recent case decisions.

The institute distributed materials that included a commentary on a prior case handled by Miofsky involving the exemption of certain personal-injury benefits from creditor collection. Miofsky advocates the use of Chapter are and Chapter 11 protection to allow debtors to keep real estate and personal assets from foreclosure, garnishment or repossession by creditations.

Steven C. Bodkins of Granite City recently received a specialact award from the Defense Mapping Agency Aerospace Center in St. Louis.

This award is given to DMA employees whose special actions have contributed significantly to agency operations.

A major combat support agency of the U.S. government, the Defense Mapping Agency provides worldwide mapping, charting and geodesy support for the Department of Defense.

Millions of paper maps and charts and massive amounts of sigital data are generated annually by the agency to ensure the highest state of operational readiness of American military forces and their sophisticated navigation, weapons, command and control systems.

Located in St. Louis, the Aerospace Center is one of three DMA production centers. Its aerospace products are used in flights of all military aircraft, training in aircraft simulators, missile guidance systems and manned space missions.

And, film laminations for the pasta industry are also prepared at the business. This includes the clear plastic in which pasta is packaged.

Miller also noted that the business is adding new equipment for printing and dye capabilities. The plant is currently able to produce seven colors, but will soon produce nine.

Miller began the business 10 years ago after working for Warehouser Paper Co. for 10 years and International Paper Co. for 10 years.

He said he got into the food packaging business because he thought it was a growing industry, and he-believes flexible packaging is the most in demand.

IHSA gives sports OK to expand classes

Some Illinois high school coaches see expanding the number of classes as a chance to level the playing field for smaller schools. Others think it could dilute the glory of state championships.

dilute the glory of state championships.
On Monday, the Illinois High School Association directors approved a committee's recommendations that allow for the expansion of classes for certain sports and after-class activities.

BOYS BASKETBALL, for example, could go from two to four classes.

"You'll see more March Madness in Illinois — more people at sectional level — because now smaller schools will feel they stand a chance of winning in the postseason," said Jim LePage, the athletic director at Waucon.

The results of a referendum

the athletic director at Waucon-da High.

The results of a referendum-among schools were released showed 321 schools voted for the change, 226 voted against it and 214 did not return the reply card the HESA action in itself does-not approve more classes in any sport or activity, according to Dave Fry, the HESA executive director.

"All-today's action does is to pave the way for individual sport or activity advisory committees to develop class expansion proposals," Fry said.

FOOTBALL, ALREADY with six classes, wouldn't be affected. Some think the advisory pan-els, especially the one for boys and girls basketball, might be slow to act.

"There should be a lot of objections, so I think they'll drag their feet," said Steve Doty, the athletic director and boys basketball coach of Washington High.

In the running SIUE's Frerker to compete in Olympic Festival

By David Wilhelm

For Darryl Frerker, all roads lead to Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville. That's where the Highland native will compete in his next race — his biggest race — his biggest race — on the street of the street of the same of the sam

"THIS WILL probably be one of the most exciting races I'll ever have the opportunity of running in." Frerker said. "With so many family members, friends and co-workers being at the track, it's going to be real exciting.

"Hopefully, it won't be overwhelming. I know I'll be focused and ready to run. But when the race is over, the party will begin." Especially if the 5-foot-6, 123-pound Frerker (pronounced Freck-er) fulfills his dream of a championship. He'll be running gop 1.50-neter athletes. The track and field competition will be held at SIUE's sparking new $5 million stadium.

"I'm going out to win it," said Frerker, who wom the 1,500 at the 1981 Olympic Festival-in Los Angeles. "Being in front of the his position, I can't look at anything but winning.

"The potential is there II I run a smart race, I can be right there. But it's not just running smart, but also running FRERKER GRADUATED from Highland High in 1982, then starred in cross country and track at Illinois State University. He was an All-American in the mile (Indoors) and won the Missouri Valley Conference's cross country championship in

But all that will pale in comparison to winning another

Olympic Festival title. Frerker qualified for the Festival at the national meet on June 18 in Knowlite, Take the mational meet on June 18 in Knowlite, Take the was preliminaries and eighth in 3:40.15 in the finals. Sluggers top Falcons in Midget II battle

The Mr. Twist Sluggers upped their record to 6-0 off the year last week after completing a game with the Falcons in Midget II play.

The game was the first this year between the two teams, which won their respective divisions last year. Stuggers starter Carl Helton went four innings for the victory before Jason Accord closed out the game.

Mr. Twist's game against Illi-nois-American Water was rained out. The Sluggers' next game is July 7 against the M.H.C. Slug-gers. Mr. Twist will also play in a tournament this weekend.
